Yamazakura Fine Blended Whisky

Sasanokawa, Japan

14

Yamazakura' is a relatively new brand in the Sasanokawa portfolio, a Japanese spirits company dating back to 1765 that makes sake and schochu. Based in the city of Koriyama (Fukushima prefecture) they expanded into whisky in the 1940s, long before the start of Japan's whisky boom. This represents a high-end complement to their entry level whisky range ('Yama' means 'mountain' and 'Sakura' means cherry tree, hence the label design). Previously exclusive to Japan, This blend is reportedly composed of four malt whiskies (of undisclosed provenance) as well as some grain whisky, so Sasanokawa is akin to an N.D.P. or "Non Distiller Producer", rather than distilling the whisky themselves.

Bunnahabhain 12 yr

By not heavily peating their malted barley, the resulting whisky is a clean, pure and distinctive malt. Ex-sherry cask influence and being non-chill filtered add to the layers of complexity exuding from this premium whisky.

On the palate it expresses vanilla sweetness and a fine peat iodine, while in the final it will leave you some notes of dark chocolate and hazel in retro olfaction. This whisky is the result of the blending of grain and malt whisky of different ages and origins, including Scotland, that had undergone a complementary aging in Japan in an exceptional place; an old railway tunnel with the ideal atmosphere for a balanced aging.

Hibiki Harmony Blended Whisky	Shimamoto, Japan	29

Hibiki, meaning resonance in Japanese, speaks to the soul and emotions of the most discerning whisky lover. Hibiki Harmony has a rich aroma and has a harmonious flavour.

Ardbeg Corryvreckan Cask Strength Single Malt Scotch Whisky	Islay, Scotland	32
--	-----------------	----

Powerfully peaty and immensely satisfying, Ardbeg's Corryvreckan is what happens when the distillery of Islay's Kildalton Coast aims to make a whisky with a particularly medicinal style than its usual expressions. Aptly named after a nearby whirlpool, Corryvreckan is an intense dram that we simply love.

McHenry's Single Malt	Port Arthur, Tasmania	35

A bold release from one Australia's finest whisky Distilleries. Aged for 4 years in Makers Mark barrels then finished in Tokay blood tubs. The Whisky is not chill filtered and retains all its complexity. Beautifully balanced with notes of vanilla and sweat cream on the front of the palate and rich and rounded with intense Christmas pudding notes on the finish.

Laphroaig 25 yr Single Malt Scotch Whisky	Islay, Scotland	42

This uncommonly exquisite 25 year old liquid is a non-chill filtered marriage of sherried, oaky flavours from second fill European Oak Oloroso sherry casks with sweet vanilla notes from American white oak bourbon barrels, bottled at casks strength. Laphroaig 25 Year Old is one of the most unique of all malt whiskies. The exceptional character of this expression makes this a whisky truly worth savouring. Sweet vanilla and wood spice, smoke and TCP, though restrained, some smoked bacon, with underlying dried fruit added to the mix. Palate is very creamy and rich, with a full texture, peppery, spicy, iodine, saline and smokiness. There's also a little green apple fruit. Very long and layered finish, with waves of rich smoke and a peppery conclusion.

1997 Michel Couvreur Alba 22 Year Old Cask
Strength Single Malt French Whisky

Burgundy, France

63

Another unique whisky experience: this time Couvreur filled Scottish malt into a Fino sherry cask in 1997 before finishing it for five years in a fresh Chenin Blanc barrel from Sot De l'Ange (the label shape references the winery's own). The aroma opens woody, dry and restrained but stretches its legs with apple and pear as well as hints of balsa wood and straw. On the palate, it starts out slightly apply and nutty, but gets more chewy and porridge-like; The finish adds a delicious dried coconut-chocolate twist, followed by sugared muesli, oatmeal and dried apple. Cask strength at 46%(!), it's another remarkable, one-of-a-kind result from the magical cellars of M. Couvreur. Non chill filtered. 420 bottles produced. Very limited stocks.
